CONTENTS

JANUARY, NO. 1

Correlation between grades on scores and grades on criticisms in the judging of dairy products. WILLIAM WHITE, P. A. DOWNS, M. J. MACK, E. L. FOUTS AND G. M. TROUT 1

Mineral composition of colostral milk. O. F. GARRETT AND O. R. OVERMAN 13

The use of sodium metaphosphate for the preparation of soft-curd milk. CHARLES SCHWARTZ, K. K. JONES, T. W. MACK AND R. W. VANCE 19

The relationship between the cooked flavor and peroxidase reactions in milk, skimmilk and cream. I. A. GOULD 37

Some factors affecting certain milk properties. III. Effect of roughages on ascorbic acid. O. F. GARRETT, R. B. ARNOLD AND G. H. HARTMAN 47

A modification of the Ritter test for copper in butter. B. E. HORRALL AND W. F. EPPLE 53

The influence of stable temperature on the production and feed requirements of dairy cows. J. R. DICE 61

Live weight and milk-energy yield in Czechoslovak cows. W. L. GAINES 71

Report of the students' national contest in judging dairy products 77

American Dairy Science Association Announcements 81

President's message 83

Abstracts of literature A1

FEBRUARY, NO. 2

Hypermagnesemia without clinical symptoms in dairy cattle. M. W. EVELETH, D. F. EVELETH AND F. E. WALSH 85

Comparative physiological responses of dairy calves fed rations having different levels of milk proteins. G. H. WISE, W. E. PETERSEN AND T. W. GULLICKSON 91

Nicking in dairy cattle. DWIGHT M. SEATH AND JAY L. LUSH 103

Carotene and vitamin A in the nutrition of growing dairy cattle. R. E. WARD, S. I. BECHDEL AND N. B. GUERRANT 115

Studies on the composition of bovine blood. II. Seasonal variations in the level of magnesium in the blood plasma of growing dairy calves. C. W. DUNCAN, C. C. LIGHTFOOT AND C. F. HUFFMAN 125

Measuring the quality of ice cream. W. H. MARTIN, E. E. NELSON AND W. J. CAULFIELD 135

Influence of some mix components upon the texture of ice cream. W. C. COLE AND J. H. BOULWARE 149

Changes in diacetyl and acetylmethyl-carbinol contents of butter at various temperatures. E. A. PRILL AND B. W. HAMMER 159

Effect of salting curd for blue cheese. C. B. LANE AND B. W. HAMMER 169

Relationship of acid number variations to the qualities and flavor defects of commercial butter. E. L. FOUTS 173

The comparative nutritive value of butter fat and certain vegetable oils. E. J. SCHANTZ, C. A. ELVEHJEM AND E. B. HART 181

American Dairy Science Association Announcements 191

Abstracts of literature A21

MARCH, NO. 3

Determination of fat, moisture, and salt in soft cheese. G. H. WILSTER, CHAIRMAN, W. V. PRICE, A. J. MORRIS, E. F. GOSS AND G. P. SANDERS 197

Oxidized flavor in milk: I. Effect of the development of oxidized flavor on the iodine number of the phospholipid fraction of milk. A. M. SWANSON AND H. H. SOMMER 201

Effect of condensing on the development of oxidized flavor. W. J. CORBETT AND P. H. TRACY 209
The influence of white-metal copper-nickel alloys on the flavor of milk. J. L. HENDERSON AND C. L. ROADHOUSE 215
Water sorption by dry milk solids. III. A comparison of results obtained by the cryoscopic, vapor pressure, and volume contraction methods. E. L. JACK 221
The final solubility of d-galactose in water. STEPHEN P. GOULD 227
A method for calculating the Baumé reading of condensed ice cream mixes. R. A. LARSON AND P. S. LUCAS 229
Some factors responsible for variations in the acid numbers of the fat in cream and in commercial butter. E. L. FOUTS 245
Live weight and milk-energy yield in Holstein cows. W. L. GAINES 259
The viability of seeds as affected by the siloing process. T. E. WOODWARD 267
American Dairy Science Association Announcements 273
Abstracts of literature A37

APRIL, NO. 4

Acid values and acid ratios as related to the keeping quality of salted butter. H. A. BENDIXEN 275
The density at 140° F. of the materials expressed as fat by various volumetric tests of cream. P. G. MILLER, S. T. COULTER AND W. B. COMBS 285
Reduction of curd tension of milk by the addition of sodium salts. P. H. TRACY AND W. J. CORBETT 289
Potentiometric studies with resazurin and methylene blue in milk. C. J. JOHNS AND R. K. HOWSON 295
Effect of lactic acid on the hydrolysis of fat in cream by pure cultures of lipolytic micro-organisms. E. L. FOUTS 303
Relation of volatile acidity of butterfat to rancidity. E. L. FOUTS 307
High-temperature (steam-injection) pasteurization of cream for buttermaking. W. M. ROBERTS, S. T. COULTER AND W. B. COMBS 315
Official flavor criticisms of dairy products judged in the national contest. G. M. TROUT, CH., WILLIAM WHITE, P. A. DOWNS, M. J. MACK AND E. L. FOUTS 325
The use of annatto as a tracer in cream for manufacturing purposes and its detection. C. W. ENGLAND AND N. E. YOUNG 331
Milk-energy yield and the correlation between fat percentage and milk yield. W. L. GAINES 337
Bloat in dairy cattle. T. M. OLSON 343
Absorptive capacity of different materials ordinarily used for bedding. T. M. OLSON 355
American Dairy Science Association Announcements 361
Abstracts of literature A55

MAY, NO. 5

The carotene content of several herbages during the growing season. W. W. SNYDER AND L. A. MOORE 363
Ascorbic acid and oxidized flavor in milk. II. The effect of various heat treatments of milk upon the stability of ascorbic acid and upon the development of the oxidized flavor. ERLAND C. GJESSING AND G. M. TROUT 373
The effect of feeding pea vine silage on the carotene and vitamin A content of milk. B. CONNOR JOHNSON AND W. H. PETERSON 385
The relation of iodine and peroxide numbers to oxidized flavor of milk. D. H. NELSON AND C. D. DAHLE 391

A yolk-buffer pabulum for the preservation of bull semen. PAUL H. PHILLIPS AND HENRY A. LARDY 399
The coagulation temperature of milk as affected by pH, salts, evaporation and previous heat treatment. P. G. MILLER AND H. H. SOMMER 405
The keeping quality of butter. C. M. SORENSEN 423
Extreme rarity of cancer in the cow's udder: A negative finding of vital interest to the dairy industry and to the consumer. W. W. SWETT, C. A. MATTHEWS AND R. R. GRAVES 437
Hemolytic streptococci in raw market milk. J. B. GUNNISON, M. P. LUXEN, M. S. MARSHALL AND B. Q. ENGLE 447
Study of dairy cleaning problems. I. Films and deposits on hot-milk equipment. J. J. JOHNSON AND C. T. ROLAND 457
Study of dairy cleaning problems. II. Effectiveness of alkalies in removing heat-deposited milk solids and butterfat films. J. J. JOHNSON AND C. T. ROLAND 463
American Dairy Science Association Announcements 471
Abstracts of literature A73

JUNE, NO. 6

Program of thirty-fifth annual meeting 473
Abstracts of papers 487
Manufacturing section 487
Production section 530
Extension section 576

JULY, NO. 7

Effect of heat and pH on the inactivation of rennin in whey. EARLE B. STRUBLE AND PAUL F. SHARP 587
The relationship between the melting time of butterfat and its melting point. WILLIS D. GALLUP AND A. H. KUHLMAN 593
Oxidized flavor in milk. II. The relation of oxidation-reduction potentials to its development. A. M. SWANSON AND H. H. SOMMER 597
A comparative evaluation of an ice cream supply as it reaches the consumer. L. K. CROWE AND P. A. DOWNS 615
The value of sodium metaphosphate in detergent mixtures in the cleaning of milking machines. W. L. MALLMANN, C. S. BRYAN AND L. H. BEGEMAN 621
A review of oxidation in milk and milk products as related to flavor. W. CARSON BROWN AND L. M. THURSTON 629
Report of the students' national contest in judging dairy cattle 687
Abstracts of literature A87

AUGUST, NO. 8

Further observations on basic viscosity of ice cream mixes and a simplified procedure to obtain it. E. S. PENCZEK AND A. C. DAHLBERG 691
Effect of various bacteria on flavor of cheddar cheese made from pasteurized milk. W. C. HARRIS AND B. W. HAMMER 701
A study of nicking in Jersey cattle. L. A. JOHNSON, J. W. BARTLETT AND LYNN COPELAND 709
The adsorption of the vitamin A suppressing factor from soybean oil. S. M. HAUGE, J. H. HILTON AND J. W. WILBUR 719

Variation in the oxidation-reduction potential as a cause for the oxidized flavor in milk. GEORGE R. GREENBANK 725
Equilibrium solutions of certain lactose-salt mixtures. O. G. JENSEN, Z. M. HANFORD AND G. C. SUPPLEE 745
Some observations on the eradication and control of Bang's disease. W. N. PLASTRIDGE, LEO F. RETTGER AND G. C. WHITE 755
The vitamin A requirements of dairy cows for the production of butterfat of high vitamin A value. I. Artificially dried alfalfa hay (carotene). J. W. WILBUR, J. H. HILTON AND S. M. HAUGE 765
The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association. R. B. STOLTZ 771
Abstracts of literature A117

SEPTEMBER, NO. 9

Lipolytic activity in milk and cream. D. C. ROAHEN AND H. H. SOMMER 831
The effect of holder and flash pasteurization on some flavors of milk. I. The effect on miscellaneous flavors common to commercial raw milk. ROBERT D. MACCURDY AND G. M. TROUT 843
The effect of holder and flash pasteurization on some flavors of milk. II. The effect on corn and alfalfa silage flavors. ROBERT D. MACCURDY AND G. M. TROUT 855
Physical and chemical properties of the fat globule adsorption "membrane." II. Nature and origin of surface active materials involved in curd tension reduction and prevention of rennet clot of cow's milk by "membranes" from natural and synthetic creams. L. S. PALMER AND N. P. TARASSUK 861
Sperm stimulation in the bull through the subcutaneous administration of ascorbic acid. PAUL H. PHILLIPS, H. A. LARDY, E. E. HEIZER AND I. W. RUPEL 873
The gas requirements of molds. II. The oxygen requirements of Penicillium Roqueforti (three strains originally isolated from blue-veined cheese) in the presence of nitrogen as diluent and the absence of carbon dioxide. N. S. GOLDING 879
The gas requirements of molds. III. The effect of various concentrations of carbon dioxide on the growth of Penicillium Roqueforti (three strains originally isolated from blue-veined cheese) in air. N. S. GOLDING 891
Observations on the growth responses of Streptococcus lactis in mastitis milk. C. C. PROUTY 899
The relationship of moisture in Swiss cheese to quality and yield. GEORGE P. SANDERS, ROBERT R. FARRAR, ROBERT E. HARDELL, FRED FEUTZ AND LLOYD A. BURKEY 905
A study of the characteristics of a milk supply as related to the manufacture of plain condensed skimmilk for ice cream making. L. K. CROWE AND DARRELL D. DEANE 919
Abstracts of literature A139

OCTOBER, NO. 10

The intensity and kind of selection actually practiced in dairy herds. DWIGHT M. SEATH 931
Rumen digestion in the bovine with some observations on the digestibility of alfalfa hay. E. B. HALE, C. W. DUNCAN AND C. F. HUFFMAN 953
A rapid colorimetric method for the determination of lactic acid in milk. BURDET HEINEMANN 969
Growth of certain organisms of importance to the dairy industry on new standard milk agar. V. D. FOLTZ AND L. D. BUSHNELL 973
A study of the reducing system of milk. I. A. GOULD 977

The disappearance of added glutathione in milk. I. A. GOULD 985
